

ATTORNEY GENERAL SHUNS POLITICS IN TALK AT KENOSHA

Morgan Won't Discuss Campaign Issues Until Keynote Speech Late in June

CALLS FOR SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL IN TALK TO KENOSHA P. T. A.

Displace Appeals to Class Feeling by Harmony of Interests

KENOSHA, Wis.—Attorney General William J. Morgan, in his first public appearance since he was endorsed by the citizens' republican state conference as a candidate for governor, made no reference to politics.

Addressing the Kenosha parent-teacher's association, Attorney General Morgan urged that in Wisconsin appeals to class consciousness should be displaced by efforts to bring about harmony of interests and a square deal for all. He expressed the opinion that prosperity and contentment would come to this state when "every class of the commonwealth finds that its just demands receive consideration."

Until his keynote address, to be given probably in Milwaukee late in June, Attorney General Morgan will not talk politics. The duties of his office are to demand his attention until the final spurt of the primary campaign is set under way.

Harmonize Differences

"If America is to continue a great nation and Wisconsin a great state, its citizens must begin to think more of the things they have in common and less of points of difference," the attorney general told his audience here.

"We cannot afford to have factions and cliques and classes in this great state, each trying to gain advantage for itself at the expense of the rest of the community, regardless of the justice of its cause," he continued.

"There has been too much preaching of class consciousness. The people of this state cannot make up a healthy and prosperous society unless everyone and every class gets a square deal, and a square deal means justice for all. It does not mean that the rights of one class shall be sacrificed to the rights of another."

Hits Special Privilege

"No small class, however rich or powerful, is justified in attempting to use the power of wealth to gain privileges at the expense of the great mass of the people. Special privileges, influence of an ideal. The people of have no place in a democracy. On the other hand, justice requires that the rights of a small class shall not be in-

DISPUTE ON AS TO WHETHER APPLETON OR NEW YORK CITY HAD FIRST ELECTRIC PLANT

MADISON, Wis.—Frank A. Wardlaw, New York, who worked with Thomas A. Edison when he was making his initial experiments regarding the generation of electricity in Madison for the purpose of making an investigation as to whether Appleton or New York city had the first electric light plant in the United States. Mr. Wardlaw will go to Appleton to interview old residents there and take depositions from former employees of the first light plant in the state including the statement of W. D. Kurz, Appleton, who was the first switchboard operator in the first plant.

During Mr. Wardlaw's visit at the university he was shown a generator which the authorities claim was one of the first to be used in the country, it having been obtained from New York many years ago. Mr. Wardlaw discovered that this generator was one of five generators used by Thomas A. Edison and himself while making their experiments in 1880.

"I thought that old generator had gone to the junk pile 40 years ago," said Mr. Wardlaw, "and here it meets me like a long lost friend."

Permission was given by the University of Wisconsin to borrow the old generator, the only one of the five known to be in existence, to be taken back to New York for use at the electrical exposition which will be held there in September.

A search was made of the newspaper files at the Historical society dated and disregarded in order to confer benefits upon a large class simply because the large class has the power through numbers, of invading and taking away the right that in justice belong to the minority.

"Improvement in social and economic conditions must come from building up rather than tearing down. When every class in this commonwealth finds that its just demands receive consideration, that all are trying to help and boost each other, instead of trying to push or pull down every class other than their own, we will be on the right road to a happy, contented, prosperous and united commonwealth."

Fair Play for All

"The one outstanding characteristic of the American people is their passionate love of fair play. They hate the methods of the coward, of the trickster and the cheat. They stand uncompromisingly for the square deal. If that is true, then surely the people can be trusted to decide all public questions fairly once they know the facts. You cannot over-estimate the influence of an ideal. The people of Wisconsin are typical Americans and their ideal is justice."

"The problems of today, political, to gather information as to when the Appleton electric light plant was started. The articles of incorporation of the New York plant were filed in advance of any effort made to organize in Wisconsin. The paper mill owners of Appleton seem to have gotten to work earlier, however, and there now appears to be two weeks difference in dispute, the records at Appleton indicating a start two weeks in advance over the plant at New York.

There has been some confusion regarding the exact date of the starting of the Appleton plant owing to the fact that on the first trial the water-power was hatched to a paper-mill beater and also to a generator and when the paper-mill beater was shut off it speeded up the generator so high as to burn out all of the incandescent lights. The second start was made without any connection to the paper-mill beater and this proved so successful that the little generator was moved to a shed close to the paper mill which is now claimed as the first electric light plant in the world. All authorities agree that it was the first electric light plant in the world to be operated by water power. The New York plant was operated by steam power.

J. N. Cadby, secretary of the Wisconsin Electrical association, is co-operating with the Wisconsin Historical society for the holding of a big celebration in Appleton this fall to commemorate the starting of the electric light plant there 40 years ago.

social or economic, can and must be solved by co-operation—in the spirit of putting our feet under a common table and trying to get together, seeking points of common interest instead of looking for points of difference.

The full duty we owe to our fellow men will be discharged whenever we approach the solution of a problem with knowledge of the facts, and with warm human sympathy, with the ideal of justice ever in our minds, and apply ourselves to the problem with industry."

COMMENCEMENT AT GALE COLLEGE IS CELEBRATED JUNE 6

Marks Twenty-first Graduation
Under Auspices of Lutheran Church

DR. MARTIN ANDERSON
IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Diplomas Awarded to Class of Twenty-two Graduates

Gale college observed its twenty-first commencement under Lutheran auspices on Tuesday, June 6. The occasion was made very festive by the fact that weather conditions were almost ideal during the whole program.

On Friday evening of last week the piano and voice students took part in a recital. The program was varied and made a strong appeal to the audience.

The baccalaureate service was held in the local church Sunday morning at 10:45 a. m. The church was decorated for the occasion in a very fitting way. The sermon was delivered by Rev. C. M. Westwig of Luther Seminary, St. Paul. The speaker showed that man as the creation of God should consecrate himself to the work of his master, whether that work be in the active service of the church or in some other vocation in life.

Rev. Westwig delivered an excellent sermon and Gale college feels very fortunate in being able to secure his services. At 8 p. m. the Lutheran League held a meeting which was a part of the commencement program. The program consisted of musical and literary numbers. The main address was given by Rev. H. G. Magnusson of La Crosse who spoke very effectively on the topic "The Lord Loveth a Cheerful Giver."

On Monday evening the class day exercises were held in the college assembly hall. A very interesting program was rendered, most of which was the product of members of the senior class. An exceedingly large number was present on this occasion.

The commencement exercises proper were observed on Tuesday. During the afternoon several activities held the attention of the graduates and visitors. The board of trustees met at 2 p. m. for its annual meeting. Several reports relative to various phases of the school work were read and accepted. A budget was adopted for the fiscal year 1922-1923. At 8 p. m. the alumni-student baseball game was played and in a very close contest the students won by a score of 14 to 13. At 6 p. m. the alumni banquet was held in the "gym." About 75 alumni and friends were present on this occasion. Between the courses several musical numbers and toasts were given. Owing to the briefness of time it was not possible to call on many that should have spoken.

The commencement program began at 8:30 p. m. and was attended by one of the largest audiences in the history of the school. The valedictory was given by Miss Ruth H. Thurne, the ranking student of the senior class. The main address was delivered by Dr. Martin Anderson of Albert Lea, Minn., who spoke on the topic "The Things that Count." Dr. Anderson showed how important and necessary it is to choose between the great and the minor things in life. First discussing the non-essentials and then the things worth while. The speaker made an eloquent appeal and held the attention of his audience every moment. Diplomas were awarded by Prof. H. E. Swansen, president of the school, to a class of 22, the members of which were as follows:

Academic—R. Norman Anderson, Archie B. Baurdsch, Valborg E. Best, William C. Robbe, Louise E. Ryge, C. Ferdinand Christensen, Hazel S. Fremstad, Evelyn M. Hjerfeld, Laura O. Hoff, Doris M. Larsen, Pyl O. Onsrud, Alice E. Quammen, Mevlin C. Richard, Ruby E. Thurne, Ruth H. Thurne.

MERCHANTS WARNED AGAINST MISUSING TRADING STAMPS

Can be Used Only When Stamped With Cash Value and Redeemable in Money

MADISON, Wis.—The use of trading stamps given by merchants to customers on the basis of the amount of their purchases is being unlawfully commenced by business men in some sections of Wisconsin, J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commissioner, said in a statement issued Thursday.

Legislative enactment has made unlawful the use of trading stamps except when such stamps bear upon their face a stated cash value and be redeemable only in cash for the amount stated, upon presentation in amounts aggregating 25 cents or over. This statute, upheld by the Supreme court, was passed when the stamps were turned to gambling purposes.

"A swarm of agents, many of them representing concerns located outside of Wisconsin, is at work through the state inveigling dealers by their artful tongues into a violation of this law," Mr. Emery said. "These agents are inducing dealers to pay their good money for something which cannot lawfully be used in the state."

"When these dealers find themselves thus wronged and seek to recover the money paid out they find themselves unable to do so. At the same time they are confronted with prosecution for violation of the law if they make use of the stamps for which they have paid.

"It was the evident intention of the legislature of Wisconsin to outlaw the whole trading stamp business except in the rare instance of plain merit. A trading stamp under the terms of the Wisconsin trading stamp law is not redeemable in anything else than cash. Promises of redemption in silverware, aluminum ware and other items of specified lists of premiums, however alluring, are in violation of the law."

Under the scheme of trading stamps, persons purchasing merchandise are given stamps of varying value according to the amount of their purchase.

We Recommend the Tires That Have Won Every Important Racing Classic for Two Years

ONE of the reasons why you can be sure of Oldfield reliability under all conditions is their performance on the speedways during 1920 and 1921:

When you consider that every important racing classic in that time has been won on Oldfield Cords you cannot fail to be impressed. It is incontrovertible proof that Barney Oldfield's twenty years of experience in testing tires has made a real contribution to the car owner's needs.

The great Indianapolis 500-mile sweepstakes was won last year, for the second time by an Oldfield-shod car. The French Grand Prix classic of European races was won in 1921 for the first time by American made tires—Oldfields of course.

Recently Tommy Milton set a new record of 110.8 miles per hour on Oldfields at the Los Angeles Speedway when he paced first in the 250-mile championship. Such facts are doubly important to you when you appreciate that these same trustworthy tires carrying our own and the maker's backing can be bought at the lowest prices on record. It is easy to see why so many car owners hereabout are standardizing on Oldfield's for this year.

BLAINE'S CHARGES AGAINST OPERATOR ARE NOT SPECIFIC

Had no Knowledge of Any Particular Conversation Reported by Hopkins

MADISON, Wis.—Admission that Gov. J. J. Blaine had no actual knowledge of any conversation involving the executive office that Joseph J. Hopkins, night telephone operator at the Wisconsin capitol, had given out to anyone after "listening in" on the talk, was made by Ralph Immel, executive secretary testifying before the civil service commission Thursday.

Hopkins was discharged two weeks ago after being charged with having given political information obtained through listening to telephone conversations to opponents of the governor. Particular reference was made indirectly to a talk between Senator R. M. La Follette in Washington, and Gov. Blaine in Madison over the appointment of Charles H. Cronk as a justice of the supreme court.

Miles C. Riley, attorney for Hopkins, informed the commission that unless reinstatement of Hopkins was made, appeal would be taken to the court to ask an order requiring that the executive substantiate the charges or allow reinstatement of Hopkins, who is working his way through the University of Wisconsin law school by means of his capitol job.

The governor's secretary, who made the charges against the operator on the stand, said that no admission had been made to him by Hopkins that he had heard conversation over the telephone from the executive office, and that he does not know of any conversations given out, but asserted there has been "leakage" and it was concluded Hopkins was the source of them.

The hearing will continue Thursday afternoon, when it is expected that Senator George R. Skaggs, secretary of the committee of forty-four, will be called to testify.

REPORT SUBMITTED TO LEAGUE AT THE OPENING SESSION

President and Board of Directors Report to Second National Convention

RESULTS OF WORK THE PAST THREE YEARS TOLD

League Has Had Great Success in its Field

The Luther League convention opened at two o'clock this afternoon with a session in the Normal school auditorium with a sermon, "The Life Worth While," by Rev. N. A. Madison of Boe, Iowa, and an address by Prof. J. N. Brown of Canton, S. D., president of the league follows:

Pres. Brown's message follows: "Luther Leaguers, Visitors, and Other Friends: We are assembled in these days for the second Triennial Convention. We have looked forward with hope and joy in this gathering of the young manhood and womanhood of our church. We have come here expecting large results, praying that God would mightily bless our convention and crown it with success. As we come to the close of these convention days may we return to our various homes and communities with minds filled with new ways and means for strengthening our local Leagues, with hearts filled with new hope and courage and zeal for the task that lies before us and with souls willing to serve whenever and wherever the Master points the way. May the Holy Spirit help us to catch new visions of our responsibilities and opportunities as the children of God that we may rededicate our lives, talents, time, and means to our Lord and Master Jesus Christ and to the blessed work of extending His Kingdom both here at home and throughout the whole world.

RESULTS OF WORK

"However, there are visible results of the past three years' work which have greatly encouraged us in our efforts and which augur well for the future success and development of the Young People's Luther League. Our League has gathered more people, old and young, about the Word of God and the work of the Church than any other organization in our Synod. Thousands have attended the Circuit District and National conventions, not to mention the local league meetings. We have confidence in the promise of God's Word where he says: 'So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth; it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I send it.' These conventions have proved an inspiration to old and young alike. They have increased knowledge of and interest for our Church and its many activities. We consider this to be one of the chief purposes of our organization. We do not desire to make the League a 'church within a church.' We wish to be an obedient, helpful, active, consecrated child of our spiritual mother, the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America. We have, therefore, sought to create an interest in the hearts and minds of our Luther Leaguers for all activities of our church body, believing this to be the best method of preparing them for future leadership and service in the Church. When, therefore, some particular cause has from time to time been given special encouragement by the League we did not, thereby, desire to have them lose sight of the other activities of the Church. Our Leaguers should possess a broad and sympathetic view of the entire work of our church and be actively interested in all its departments.

CONVENTIONS

"So far our strength has manifested itself in our splendid conventions. As a rule, our local League work is not so commendable. Your Board has given much thought to this problem. We have felt that one reason for this weakness of the local league has been a lack of adequate material and helps. We have been somewhat handicapped in the past by lack of sufficient funds for producing this much needed literature. However, we believe the problem has been largely solved by the editors of our splendid tope helps in the Lutheran Church Herald, Rev. C. S. Thorpe, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Rev. John Peterson, of Clinton, Wis. Here our local leagues will find abundant material for instructive and inspiring programs. We would urge all local leagues to make use of these tope helps. As soon as sufficient funds can be supplied these helps should be supplemented with quarterly help topics. Your Board has also gathered valuable data through the parochial reports of the various congregations concerning names and addresses of prospective students for our Church schools. This information has been given the Board of Education to use as they deem best.

Rev. N. M. Ylvisaker

"If our League is to accomplish what God and our Church body have a right to expect of it, your Board realized that they must have some one to devote his entire time and undivided attention to its various interests. Rev. N. M. Ylvisaker, was again induced to accept the responsible position of Executive Secretary. The success of the past three years has been due to a large measure to his sound counsel, untiring efforts and consecrated service for the upbuilding of our League. Through correspondence and travel he has created a loyal spirit of co-operation and unity among the thousands of young people in our Church. He has been an inspiration to us at our Board meetings and our conventions. We gratefully extend to him our heartfelt appreciation for this service so well rendered. We earnestly recommend that this position of Executive Secretary be continued and more workers added as soon as the

Tennis Over 60 Per Cent Footwork

(By BOB DORMAN)
How many tennis fans pay serious attention to footwork? Yet in no other sport, not even boxing, is it more important. Frank Anderson, national indoor champion of 1921, rates it at 60 per cent of the game. "Watch the game's stars," men like Tilden, Johnston and other ranking players," he advises. "For those who lack the opportunity to do this he suggests the following simple rules:

In serving, stand a-tiptoe, left foot turned in and weight on left toe, enabling you to follow through and go to the net with your service without waste motion. To receive your opponent's service, stand with legs slightly apart and weight equally distributed, enabling you to move quickly in any direction. To use forehand stroke, the left foot should carry the weight and be toward the opposite court, with the right foot turned at a slight angle. On backhand stroke, the right foot should bear the weight and be forward, with the left at an angle. To go to the side, turn on the ball of the foot toward the side to which you are going, and stride with the other leg.

Surrounding Anderson's portrait, shown here, the player is seen using the backstroke (1), starting to the side (2), awaiting service (3), going to the side (4) and using forearm stroke (5).

PALMYRA DRUGGIST NOT CHARGED WITH FORGING PERMITS

Liquor Prescriptions Filled by Baldwin Were Forged by Other Parties
WATERTOWN, Wis.—In a dispatch Wednesday it was stated that Matthew F. Baldwin, druggist at Palmyra, had been arrested charged with having forged more than 500 false prescriptions. This was an error, no charge of forgery has been placed against Mr. Baldwin. He was arrested on a warrant following an investigation by Deputy State Commissioner Nagler, and the complaint contains 141 separate and distinct counts covering a period of time from July 5, 1921, to March 31, 1922. It is charged that liquor prescriptions were filled on forged prescriptions but Mr. Baldwin is not charged with the forgery. District Attorney Ray C. Twining said that the number of false prescriptions so forged were approximately 500, including prescriptions purporting to have been written by doctors residing in a number of communities through Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois. Baldwin was held for examination by Justice of the Peace Ferd Schmitzler of Watertown, in $1,000 bail and hearing set for June 21.

STYLES, SHIFT IN BASEBALL

Case Where Heads Down is the Proper Play

Fashion change in baseball. That is what a major league manager told a recruit when he asked about, running to first base. The manager told him to run head down. The recruit said he had always followed the style of heads up. So the manager told him about the changing fashions.
"When you are going to first base only one object can be in front of you and that is first base," explained the manager.
"No other play is possible. It is up to you to get to first as quickly as possible and by running head down you'll get there quicker than by running heads up."
"Play heads up baseball, but when going to first play only heads down."

Gilterson's Union Giants is the outfit that opposes the Nelson club. In keeping with their former practice it was expected that Harney has been saved for the opening game against the locals. He will be remembered as the greatest spit-ball hurler ever seen in La Crosse.
It was expected that hosts of fans would come in from the surrounding towns for the games here this week.
Tonight's the first big night. Two investigators in New York city recently found that to every weary, bugged, 25 were professionals making large profits at the business.

You can't make FINE CIGARS unless you command a supply of FINE TOBACCOS
The exceptional tobacco buying advantage enjoyed by the makers of Harvester Cigar
ALL the filler tobaccos used in the Harvester cigar come from Cuba, whose sun and soil, rains and mists produce the aromatic flavors without which no cigar can be called "fine."
ALL the wrappers used in Harvester come from a little stretch of land along the Connecticut River. There, under acres of cloth, is grown a quality of "shade" wrapper leaf the like of which the tobacco world never saw until a few years ago.
To select skillfully from the crops offered annually in these two great markets, calls for judgment of a rare order and for experience that can't be deceived. So far, so good.
But to procure the lots of tobacco, after you have selected them bale by bale, calls for buying power, pure and simple. That means, ability to buy in large volume, backed by the cash in hand.
The outstanding reason why Harvester cigar has built such an impressive success in so few years is—tobacco.
Its makers—the Consolidated Cigar Corporation—have every advantage of buying experience and buying power. They command the best the crops yield. Second place is not for them.
Harvester is a fine cigar because it is made of fine tobaccos.
It's a cigar, men—a real one.

PATIENTS SHOULD REGISTER EARLY FOR CHEST CLINIC

Important to Get Name on Lists for Examination Here Next Week

Experience at former free chest clinics, where scores of people were turned away because there were so many ahead of them that it was impossible for the examiners to take care of all, has led workers to urge patients to register as early as possible during the coming La Crosse clinic, which will be held at the Court house, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 12, 13 and 14. Examinations will begin at 9 a. m. and continue through to 6 p. m.

This will mark the third annual visit to La Crosse of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, financed by the sale of penny Christmas seals. Credit for securing the clinic annually for La Crosse has been due to the enterprise and progressiveness of the La Crosse branch of the state association, under whose auspices the clinics have been held.

Advance arrangements for the clinic are being made under the direction of F. H. Seefeld, chairman of the local Anti-Tuberculosis Association. Miss Dorothy Durbin, organizer for the state association, will arrive to assist with the preliminary work. Miss Mary A. Hogan, county nurse, Miss Myra Kimball, city supervising nurse, and other local workers are giving hearty cooperation. Albert B. Burgess, La Crosse Christmas seal campaign manager, is among those taking an active part in preparations for what promises to be La Crosse's most successful clinic. Special stress is being placed on the importance of persons who have been exposed to tuberculosis for a prolonged period being examined, and every effort will be made to examine as many as possible of the contact cases of the county during the three days. It has been found in the clinic work that the largest percentage of tuberculosis has been found among this class of patients and it has not been unusual to find that several members of a family have contracted this disease. By discovering these cases early, when the disease is readily curable it will be possible to prevent tuberculosis from sweeping through entire families, as is often the case.

The First Confection

The oldest confection is thought to be the black licorice which is the juice of a plant mixed with starch to prevent it from running in hot weather. This plant grows on the Tigris and Euphrates, where the roots may reach the water. Since the valley of the Euphrates contained the oldest civilization known, it is likely that licorice was the earliest confection, and it was eaten thousands of years ago by the children just as it is today.

"LOVE'S PENALTY"—MAJESTIC
Hope Hampton added new laurels to her already splendid reputation as an emotional actress in "Love's Penalty," which opened at the Majestic Theater last night for a two day run. Due in great part to the broad scope given her for the display of her remarkable histrionic ability, Seton has a story been written which makes such calls upon the talent of the leading character in it, but because "Love's Penalty" does, and because Hope Hampton is able to respond in splendid manner to every demand, the production is one of the best which has been shown in months in this city.

"SMILIN' THROUGH"—RIVOLI
Norma Talmadge in a fine dramatic vehicle is the magnetic screen attraction at the Rivoli Theater this week.

The production in which she appears is "Smilin' Through," screen version of Allen Langdon Martin's famous play that gained new laurels for Jane Cowl on the speaking stage. Norma is at her histrionic best in the dual role that this powerful drama gives her. She is seen first as the fair Monyreen, who is slain on her wedding day by a jealous suitor. Then she is the young and beautiful Kathleen, who is the image of her deceased aunt, Monyreen.

Kathleen falls in love with Kenneth Wayne, son of the man who killed Monyreen, and the obstacles placed in the way of the young lovers by John Carteret, who was to have made Monyreen his wife, form the nucleus of a most absorbing plot with a charming romance.

The vast sweep of the desert lands of Sahara serve as a vivid and romantic background for the "Sheik of Araby," in which the noted star of the stage and screen, H. B. Warner, appears as the Sheik. Full of thrilling incidents, glowing with romance of the desert, gorgeous in the oriental trappings of costumes and sets and swift with action, "The Sheik of Araby" promises to be one of the most popular of all the ever-enjoyable Sheik stories whose vogue is sweeping the whole world. Mr. Warner is always the dominant character in the story. As an English captain who vowed vengeance on his own people because of an injustice that reflected upon his honor, he goes among the Arabs and lives as one of them.

CASINO TODAY

Fred Stone is dividing his time these days between the musical comedy stage and the motion picture studios and his thousands of admirers the country over now have an opportunity to see him on the screen. He is appearing at the Casino in "Billy Jim," his most recent production.

"Billy Jim" presents the noted star in a truly lovable character, that of a love-sick cowboy pursuing the beautiful young daughter of a wealthy Westerner with a view of asking her hand in marriage. It is upon his experiences in the chase for a wife that the story is built and Mr. Stone, a rare artist always has missed no opportunity to bring out the delicious humor in the many laugh-provoking situations.

Fabric Maker Tells How to Make Clothes Last

Something That Any Woman Can Do.

By GRACE BARTON

Recently I interviewed a manufacturer of silks and satins and to my surprise he told me that he washes his fine materials before he weaves them, very much as we women wash Billy's rompers and Betty's shirtwaists and indeed our flax linens, underwear and stockings. But what kind of soap do you think the experts use? Not the ordinary white and yellow laundry soap containing "filler," but soap rich with crude olive oil. He told me that the "filler" in ordinary laundry soap cuts and rots the clothes; while olive oil softens the fibers of cotton, silk, linen and wool as no other cleansing agent known.

After that talk I felt it was a pity that housewives did not have such a soap for their family wash. Recently I discovered that such a soap does exist. It is called pure GREEN ARROW, and is made by The Palmolive Co. This large greenish bar gets its cattle color from the real olive oil and not from coloring matter. I have tried it and recommend it without reserve to every woman. This bar is all soap—without "filler"—hence goes nearly twice as far as the ordinary, because it is all cleansing power. That saves many bars per month as well as clothes. And any woman who prizes her hands will surely swear by it after the very first time she does the family washing. For GREEN ARROW doesn't reddened or roughen the hands the slightest. It's only through buying olive oil and converting this mild, delightful cleanser in enormous quantities that The Palmolive Co. got the cost low enough to put it in a laundry soap. Careful women are adopting this new gift to the family washbasin as fast as they learn about it. Thank goodness—the old neglected family wash is coming in for its own at last.—Advertisement.

THE HOME GARDEN

What is Home Without a Garden?

THE OLD BEET FAMILY

The word beet is applied to this useful class of vegetables from the Greek "Beta," second letter of the Greek alphabet and the botanical name of the beet. The term was applied because the ancients saw in the seed pod of the beet resemblance to the Greek letter beta.

It is one of the few vegetables known to have originated in ancient Egypt and the term Egyptian still clings to one of the best varieties, although it would be hard to trace a distinct Egyptian connection at the present time.

There are double usage beets, some whose roots are large and edible, the common varieties, and those which grow solely to leaves and are plants only for greens, although the leaves of the root varieties are valuable for the same purpose. There is also a strain sometimes seen which is grown for the beauty of its foliage as an ornamental plant. These, however, have largely disappeared from gardens.

The Swiss chard or spinach beet is the most valuable for the family for greens. It has spread into gardens with remarkable speed in the last few years although it is a plant of very ancient lineage and is not Swiss at all. There is something about the nationally attributed plants. The chard has been known for 4,000 years coming originally, so far as can be determined, from the Canary Islands, the shores of the Mediterranean sea and from the temperate regions of western Asia.

It is generally asserted in seed catalogues that the fleshy midrib of the leaves and the stem may be cooked as asparagus. However, it is an insipid dish and bears little relation to asparagus as a vegetable except in appearance. The tender portions of the leaf are the really valuable food crop.

The beet is said to be especially valuable as an article of diet because it contains a larger portion of iron than other vegetables.

MONEY RATES DOWN
Drop of 3/4 Per Cent at Market Opening; Trading is Speculative
NEW YORK—Although call money opened at the unusually low level of 3 1/4 per cent, dealings diminished steadily in the stock market Thursday. Instances of the market's speculative character included an extension of the time for the closing of the market and an abrupt decline of 1/8 of a point in Du Pont. Sugars were strong. Independent stock and obscure equities held or increased early gains. Losses of one to three points were made by electric storage battery trusts. Overland Touring, Consolidated Gas and American Can. Ralls became more irregular on selling of Toledo, St. Louis and Cincinnati and New Orleans, Texas and Pacific.

Gains and losses mainly within narrow limits attended the dull opening of the stock market. Traders evidently were disposed to wait on impending developments before extending their operations for the day or short account. Formal announcement of the details of the Republic-Midvale-Inland steel merger were without pronounced effect. Aside from the modest gains of some of that group, Ralls were neglected but the street was not inclined to attach much importance to the announcement. Consolidated Gas and American Can. Ralls became more irregular on selling of Toledo, St. Louis and Cincinnati and New Orleans, Texas and Pacific.

Buying of Mexican Oil, coalers, food specialties and utilities led gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points infused some firmness into the latter dealings. The close was steady. Sales approximated $50,000.

Frank A. Bentley, Charged With Obtaining $200 from Bank, Claims Misunderstanding

W. D. Brown, deputy sheriff of Erie, Pa., has arrived in the city with requisition papers for the return of Frank A. Bentley to that city to answer to a charge of forgery. Brown came to La Crosse to inquire into the situation, then took the requisition papers to Governor Blaine at Madison and has returned to this city to await developments. Bentley is charged with a forgery that is said to have netted him $200 at a bank in Erie. Bentley, when arraigned in county court on May 16, denied the charge. He was released on $250 bail.

George T. Lyon, an attorney of Duquesne, Pa., and friend of Bentley's family, came here to defend Bentley. According to Lyon, there is some mystery in the matter. The defense claims that the Erie case would not be prosecuted. Lyon refused to do this. Bentley claims the forgery charge has grown out of a misunderstanding somewhere in connection with a soldier's loan that he negotiated at the Erie bank.

AIMS OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ARE EXPLAINED FULLY

R. W. Holcombe Answers Questions Regarding Organization

CAMPAIGN TO INFORM CITIZENS INAUGURATED

Newspapers and Mail are to be Used

What is the Chamber of Commerce for?

This question was asked of R. W. Holcombe, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, this morning, by a local business man during a discussion of the importance of concerted effort on the part of the citizens of La Crosse as a whole.

"The question is a big one, therefore requires a somewhat condensed answer, without attempting to go into details as to just how those things are accomplished," replied Mr. Holcombe. "But every citizen in La Crosse will during the next few weeks, be given an opportunity to learn all about a modern Chamber of Commerce, through the newspapers, public meetings and direct mailings."

In answer to the question asked, he said that the aims and objects of the Modern Chamber of Commerce throughout the United States were:

- (1) To protect and foster the commercial, industrial and civic interests of the community.
- (2) To bring the advantages of geographic location, topography and environment to their highest stage of development, utility and attractiveness.
- (3) To lead in prompt, progressive thought and action in all that will make for an enlightened, contented and prosperous community.

Is Representative

Such an organization is composed of representative business and professional men who take counsel and work together upon business principles for the common good.

It makes known the business advantages of the city, and it endeavors to create more advantages to be advertised. It is organized to attract new industries and to aid those already located in the city by improving shipping facilities, by securing advantageous freight and express rates, and by working for better conditions affecting the labor supply.

It is organized to take an active interest in all civic movements for the betterment of the city; to augment the efforts of existing organizations working for these ends; to further the development of every commercial and social advantage we enjoy; and to inaugurate movements for a better city to live in and more advantageous to work in.

It is vitally interested in taxes, in education, in public health, in better streets, in agriculture, in sanitation, in parks and playgrounds, in public service and public servants.

Organized to Study

It is organized to study and apply every just and proper method for the ascendancy and prosperity of the city; its criticism and its labors are constructive.

The city's commercial organization concentrates and directs individual knowledge, energy and ambition for common good. It maintains the machinery to accomplish what many want, but which no one alone can get.

These are logical objectives, and certainly high aims and they can be realized here in La Crosse, if we all work together. One business man was heard to make this very pertinent statement: "Cities do not happen—cooperation builds them. All we need in La Crosse is to organize the builders and I believe this Chamber of Commerce will do it."

Turtle's Method

The mud turtle takes in a certain amount of air and then buries himself in the mud. When this air is exhausted he comes up for more. However, in the winter time the mud turtle buries himself in the mud in a state of hibernation and remains several months.

MARRIAGE OF PRINCESS MARIE AND KING ALEXANDER FORMS BARRIER AGAINST FUTURE WAR

CEREMONY LINKS DYNASTIES OF 3 BALKAN NATIONS

Wedding Rites are Marked by Pomp and Splendor of Medieval Days

BELGRADE.—Medieval pomp and splendor marked the wedding here today of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Princess Marie of Rumania. Nearly every nation in the Old and New World was represented at the ceremony, which linked the dynasties of three Balkan countries, forming a powerful barrier against future wars in this turbulent part of Europe. The event probably will remain unmatched for a long time in Balkan annals for its political significance: the lavishness and beauty of its settings; the enthusiasm and fervor of the people; the picturesqueness of the processions, and the quaintness of the costumes to the bride and groom.

The bridal gown was an antique creation of white crepe, Georgette, with long court train, embroidered in pure silver and crystals, and the Princess wore over her tulle veil a shower of scintillating gold strands. She was a picture of girlish beauty, dignity and grace as she was escorted to the altar by her father, King Ferdinand of Rumania. From her shoulders fell a large court mantle in brilliant silver at the lower end of which the double arms of Rumania and Yugoslavia were embroidered in silver and gold. King Alexander presented his bride with a massive crown of gold, set with diamonds and rubies, each province of Yugoslavia having contributed a precious stone to the diadem.

Duke of York Best Man

The King who entered the church arm in arm with Queen Marie, his future mother-in-law, wore the bright full-dress uniform of a Serbian General. His best man was the Duke of York, son of King George of England.

The Queen of Rumania, who has come to be known as the "Mother-in-Law of the Balkans," looked almost as youthful as the daughter she gave in marriage. She dominated the entire ceremony, and next to the bride was easily the most conspicuous and charming figure in the Cathedral. When she was not receiving the congratulations of her friends, she was busy giving directions for the execution of the wedding.

The marriage was solemnized by the Serbian Patriarch in the ancient Byzantine Cathedral of Belgrade. In accordance with Serbian custom, there was no civil ceremony. As the bride and groom walked up the aisle a Te Deum was sung. The marble altar, resplendent in porphyry and gold was tastefully decorated with lilies and roses among which national colors of Rumania and Yugoslavia were intertwined.

The bridesmaids were Princess Helena, the 13-year-old sister of the bride; her cousin, Grand Duchess Cyril of Russia, 14 years old; and the little 8-year-old daughter of Princess Helen of Russia, sister of King Alexander, whose husband was killed by the Bolsheviks.

The wedding was followed by a gala luncheon at the palace, at which the representatives of the foreign royal families, cabinet members, and government officials were guests. In the afternoon there was a procession of deputations from the various Serbian provinces dressed in national costumes.

Banquet on Plates of Gold

The day's events closed with a magnificent banquet at the palace in the evening on plates of gold, the King and new Queen leaving shortly after for their castle in Beed, Slovenia or their honeymoon.

Among the celebrities present were: The Duke of York, representing King George of England; the Italian Crown Prince, representing the King of Italy, Grand Duchess Cyril of Russia, sister of the Queen of Rumania; the Infanta Beatrice, youngest sister of the Queen of Rumania, and her husband; the Princes and Princesses of the Greek royal family; Marshal Franchet d'Esperey, representing France, and Crown Prince Carol and Princess Helene of Rumania. The sovereigns of Japan, Belgium, Spain, Norway and the heads of state of other countries also were represented.

Princess Helen of Russia, sister of King Alexander; Prince Arsene Karageorgievich, his uncle, and the son of the latter, Prince Paul, who are the only living relatives of the King, also were present. Prince George, the King's elder brother, who is living in Paris, and who renounced the throne 12 years ago, was not invited.

Queen Marie of Rumania, in speaking of the marriage, expressed her satisfaction and added:

"The marriage unites the old Rumanian family with the younger dynasty of the Serbs, Greeks and Slovenes. The Yugoslavs are especially happy because King Ferdinand and myself are connected with so many of the royal families of Europe. They consider it a great stroke of good fortune for them and their future that their King should marry a Rumanian princess."

Guard Bridal Party

Elaborate precautions were taken to guard King Alexander and Princess Marie during their wedding festivities. The entire route of the bridal party from the palace to the cathedral was lined with double rows of soldiers with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets. One line of the troops faced outward and the other inward. Their orders were to shoot immediately, if it is understood, if they noticed any suspicious movement among the spectators. Residents of the city living alone the streets through which the procession passed were forbidden to open their windows without special police permission.

Armed guards were placed on all the balconies and points of vantage and the number of spectators on each was strictly limited so that there

THIRD SUSPECT IN TREMPLEAU WINE ROBBERY IS HELD

Howard McQuane, 30, wanted by authorities for investigation as to possible complicity in the theft of fifteen gallons of elderberry wine from Trempealeau bay summer homes May 30, was apprehended at his home between Centerville and Galeville, Wisconsin, Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff H. F. Theuren of Whitehall, who reported to Chief H. C. Riebau of Winona, late Wednesday.

Search for McQuane started June 3, after the arrest of William Harris, 23, of Centerville, Wis., and Edward Tracey, 23, of Winona, who are alleged to have confessed their complicity in the theft of the wine from Peter Reinard, caretaker of two summer homes.

McQuane, according to Chief Riebau's report from Whitehall, said he hired a taxi to take him to Galeville Saturday night. He refuses to answer questions regarding the robbery of Reinard, who claims that four men held him up at the point of a gun, forced him to drink some of the wine and then robbed him of fifteen gallons of elderberry wine he had made for his own use.

Sir Ernest Shackleton will take soundings to determine if there was ever any connections between Africa and America.
